1. About Media Super Sole Trader

Super for those working in print, media and the arts.

We've helped our members build a more comfortable retirement for more than 30 years. And with the strength and scale of Cbus Super now behind us, our members can reap even more benefits.

We also have a history of investing back into our community – supporting industries that are important to our members such as the Australian film and television industry.

While our roots are in the creative industries, you can join Media Super no matter what work you do – and it's easy to take us with you when you change jobs.

We offer a MySuper product; the Growth (MySuper) investment option, as well as a range of other investment options including Pre-mixed and DIY (do-it-yourself) investment options.

Everything we do is intended to benefit our members, so they can enjoy the retirement they've worked hard for.

Who is Media Super Sole Trader for?

Sole traders making their own super contributions. That means:

1. You trade in your own right as a sole trader or in an unincorporated partnership in which you and your partners bear full responsibility for all of your business actions and liabilities,
2. Your business hasn't been established under a company structure in which you're a shareholder, director or employee, and
3. You're not eligible to receive compulsory super contributions (or comparable contributions) from any employer into any super fund for your main job.

If that's not you, you can also join through:

- Media Super Industry: for people receiving Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions through an employer.
- Media Super Personal: for people who are not currently working or receiving employer contributions.
- A Cbus Super Income Stream: for people nearing or in retirement.

Important information to read

Visit mediasuper.com.au/fund for information including: the Trust Deed (and governing rules), significant event notices (including fee/product updates), Annual Report, Financial Services Guides, details of service providers, board appointments and attendance, remuneration of our directors and other key management personnel.

You can also visit mediasuper.com.au/dashboard to access our MySuper product dashboard.

2. How super works

You can choose your own super

Super helps you save for retirement and is compulsory for most employed Australians. That's why the government takes less tax from super than most other types of investments. If you're a sole trader or in an unincorporated partnership, you can generally choose your own super fund, and how much and how often you would like to invest into your super.

You can boost your super with extra contributions

You can build your super account by putting in extra money. There are two ways:

- From your before-tax salary: such as salary sacrifice contributions.
- From your after-tax salary: such as making a personal contribution (if you don't claim a tax deduction). The government may also make a co-contribution of up to $500 if you're a low to middle income earner and meet the eligibility criteria.

See page 9 for more information on contributions to your super, including limits.

Super's usually for your retirement

You'll generally need to reach at least age 60 before you can access your super. You may be able access it before then in certain circumstances, such as:

- on compassionate grounds,
- if you're terminally ill or permanently incapacitated, or
- if you're experiencing severe financial hardship.

There are limits to the amount you can withdraw in these circumstances.

Combining your super accounts could help you save

If you've had multiple jobs, you may have more than one super account and be paying fees on each of them. You can easily search for and combine your super through your online Media Super account. Or complete the Combine your super into Media Super form. To learn more about finding and combining your super visit mediasuper.com.au/consolidate.

You can stay with us when you finish work

From age 60 most people can turn their super into regular, tax-free payments with a Cbus Super Income Stream account. This means you can stay with us as you transition into retirement.

Keep your details up-to-date

We send out regular updates, including any important changes to your super, so make sure we know how to contact you. Also, if we can't contact you, and there's been limited activity on your account (such as no contributions for 16 months), your account will close and the balance will move to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) and any insurance and other benefits will stop, unless you've told us you want to stay with Media Super.

 You should read the important information about how super works in our How super works guide before making a decision. Go to mediasuper.com.au/superworks. The material relating to how super works may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

Regular account updates

You'll get two account updates a year, as well as a retirement income estimate for most members.

¹ Since inception from 1 July 1984 to 30 June 2025. The average annual investment return is based on the crediting rate, which is the investment return minus investment fees, investment related taxes and until 31 January 2020, the percentage-based administration fee. Excludes fees and costs that are deducted directly from members' accounts. Media Super merged with Cbus Super on 9 April 2022 and as a result, pre-existing Media Super investment options were closed and Media Super members were transferred to equivalent Media Super branded investment options under United Super Pty Ltd. The historical performance displayed prior to this date relates to Cbus Super investment options and does not incorporate the performance of Media Super. Media Super members received a Successor Fund Transfer Exit Statement prior to merging with Cbus Super, detailing the performance of their Media Super investment options. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. See page 7 for details of current fees and costs.

4. Risks of super

All investments involve risk. Understanding these risks can help you to make better investment decisions.

Generally, the more risk taken with investments, the more the potential for higher long-term investment returns. The lower the risk taken, the lower the likely long-term investment returns. To help you understand this, asset classes (the building blocks of investment options) may be classified as growth or defensive (or a mix).

Common investment risks are market volatility risk, market risk, inflation risk, interest rate risk, Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) risk, liquidity risk, currency risk and credit risk. We manage these on your behalf.

When investing in super (including the Fund) it's also important to consider:

- that the value of your investment can change. Investment returns aren't guaranteed and you may lose some of your money,
- the level of investment returns can vary - future investment returns can be different to past investment returns,
- contributions and investment returns may not grow your super enough to adequately support you when you retire, and your savings might not last long enough,
- super laws may change in the future, and
- the level of risk for you depends on a range of factors you should consider when making decisions about your super.

So, when you come to choose investment options, it's important to think about:

- how old you are now and how long you plan to invest
- other investments you have outside super, such as savings, property or shares, and
- how much risk you're willing to take to achieve the investment return you want.

You should read the important information about risks in our Investment guide before making a decision. Go to mediasuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to our investment options may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

Visit mediasuper.com.au/investments for the latest investment returns.

You should read the important information about our investment options and how we invest your money in our Investment guide before making a decision. Go to mediasuper.com.au/pds. The material relating to our investment options may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

6. Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Moneysmart website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

* This text is required by law, but as we only charge fees to cover costs and not to make a profit, our fees can't be negotiated.

Fees and costs summary

This table shows fees and costs for the Growth (MySuper) investment option and can be used to compare costs between different superannuation products. Fees may be deducted directly from your account or from investment returns. Definitions of fees and costs can be found in the Fees and costs guide at mediasuper.com.au/fees.

Type of fee or cost	Amount	How and when paid
Ongoing annual fees and costs¹
Administration fees and costs	$1.00 a week ($52 a year) plus 0.19% of your account balance up to $1,000 a year	Deducted from your account at the end of each month or when you close your account.
	plus 0.07% a year ³	Deducted from Fund reserves (not from your account).
Investment fees and costs²	0.44% a year ³	Deducted from investment returns before the crediting rate is applied to your account.
Transaction costs	0.12% a year ³
Member activity related fees and costs
Buy-sell spread	Nil	Not applicable.
Switching fee
Other fees and costs⁴	Various, depending on the activity, advice or insurance	Activity and advice fees are deducted from your account when applicable. Insurance fees (if applicable) are deducted from your account at the end of each month, or when you close your account.

² Includes an amount of 0.04% for performance fees based on the average performance fees for the five years to 30 June 2025. The calculation basis for this amount is set out under the Additional explanation of fees and costs in the Fees and costs guide at mediasuper.com.au/fees.

³ Deducted from investment returns before they're credited to member accounts, and are calculated each year in arrears. The figures shown are estimates based on expenses for the period ending 30 June 2025. The calculation basis for this amount is set out in the Fees and costs guide.

⁴ Other fees and costs may apply such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice or insurance fees. See the Additional explanation of fees and costs in the Fees and costs guide.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how the ongoing annual fees and costs for the Growth (MySuper) investment option for this superannuation product can affect your superannuation investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this superannuation product with other superannuation products.

Example – Growth (MySuper)		Balance of $50,000
Administration fees and costs	$1.00 a week ($52 a year) plus 0.19% of your account balance plus 0.07% of your account balance (paid from fund reserves, not your account)	For every $50,000 you have in the superannuation product, you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $95 in administration fees and costs, plus $52 (regardless of your balance). $35 in administration fees and costs will be paid from Fund reserves (not from your account).
PLUS Investment fees and costs	0.44%	And you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $220 in investment fees and costs.
PLUS Transaction costs	0.12%	And you will be charged or have deducted from your investment $60 in transaction costs.
EQUALS Cost of product		If your balance was $50,000 at the beginning of the year, then for that year you will be charged fees and costs of $462 for the Growth (MySuper) investment option.

Note: Additional fees may apply.

We may change the amount of fees or introduce new fees without your consent. You'll be given at least 30 days' notice before any increase to administration fees or other fees, such as insurance fees or activity fees. Keep your contact details up to date so you receive notice of any changes.

Estimated investment fees and costs, such as transaction costs, may vary from year to year without prior notice.

Financial advice fees can be deducted from your Media Super account for financial advice provided in relation to your account(s) by an external financial adviser who is registered with us for fee deductions. Fees will only be deducted with your written consent.

Please refer to the Statement of Advice provided by your financial adviser for all relevant fees.

You should read the important information about fees and costs in our Fees and costs guide before making a decision. Go to mediasuper.com.au/fees. The information on fees and costs may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

7. How super is taxed

Super is a tax-effective way for most people to save for retirement.

You should provide us with your tax file number (TFN). You may pay extra tax and won't be able to make after-tax contributions if you don't. See mediasuper.com.au/tfn for details.

Tax on contributions

There are limits on contributions to your super (contribution caps). If you contribute more than these limits you may pay extra tax.

Before-tax (concessional) contributions	After-tax (non-concessional) contributions
Includes employer (including salary sacrifice contributions) and tax-deductible personal contributions.	Includes personal or voluntary contributions where no tax deduction has been claimed.
Usually a 15% tax rate applies on amounts up to your before-tax contributions cap, which is $30,000 for the 2025/26 financial year. This tax is deducted from contributions made to your account.	No tax applies on amounts up to your after-tax contributions cap, which is currently $120,000 a year (as long as your total super balance was less than $2 million on 30 June 2025).
However if your total super balance across all accounts was under $500,000 on 30 June 2025, you can contribute more than the before-tax contributions cap by carrying forward any unused cap amounts for up to five years.	However if you're under age 75, you may be able to bring forward your cap for up to three years to contribute up to $360,000 in any three-year period. Extra tax will apply if your after-tax contributions are higher than your after-tax contributions cap.
Extra tax will apply if: <ul style="list-style-type: none">– we don't have your TFN.– you're a high income earner.– your before-tax contributions are higher than your before-tax contributions cap.	Your total super balance may affect how much you can contribute.

Claiming a tax deduction on personal contributions

You can apply to claim a tax deduction for after-tax contributions you make, which may reduce the amount of income tax you pay. If you claim a tax deduction, the contribution will then be treated as a before-tax contribution. This means the contribution will be subject to the 15% tax rate, and count towards your before-tax contributions cap. Think about what this tax treatment could mean for you.

Before you apply to claim the tax deduction you need to make sure you meet the eligibility criteria and notify us of your intent to claim using our Claim a tax deduction for personal contributions to super form.

From age 67 you'll also need to meet the work test (or exemption criteria). For details read the Claim a tax deduction for personal contributions to super fact sheet at mediasuper.com.au/forms.

Tax on lump sum withdrawals

If you're aged 60 or over, withdrawals you make are generally tax free. If you're under age 60 tax is deducted from withdrawals before we pay them to you. The taxable component is taxed at a maximum of 22% (which includes 2% Medicare Levy). There's no tax payable on the tax-free component.

Tax on investment earnings

Investment earnings within super are taxed at a maximum rate of 15%.

The actual rate may be lower due to certain tax credits and tax offsets available to Media Super. Any tax is deducted from the crediting rate that applies to your super before investment earnings are added to your account.

 You should read the important information about how super is taxed in our How super works guide before making a decision. Go to mediasuper.com.au/superworks or visit the ATO website, ato.gov.au. The material relating to how super is taxed may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

8. Insurance in your super

Cover you can count on

Insurance through Media Super can provide cover for death (including terminal illness), total and permanent disablement (TPD) and income protection (IP). Given our size, we can get a better deal for our members, with premiums paid from your super, not your salary.

Keep your cover, even when life changes

By law, any death and TPD cover will stop if your account doesn't receive a contribution or a roll in for 16 months, unless you tell us you want it to continue. You can do this using the Join Media Super Sole Trader form, or at any time online at mediasuper.com.au/opt-in.

Your death and TPD cover could restart automatically if your balance is enough to cover your insurance premiums but you may not get the same cover as you had before. Any IP cover won't automatically restart if you receive an on-time compulsory super contribution from your employer - you'll need to reapply for IP cover.

There are also other reasons your cover could stop, such as when you reach a certain age or if you don't have enough money in your account to pay for it. See the Insurance guide (Sole Trader) for details.

Automatic cover

We offer automatic death, TPD and IP cover to eligible Media Super members. The cover available is based on your age, occupation category and, in some cases, your account balance. If you qualify, automatic cover can give you cover for:

	Insurance cover	Benefit provided
Your life	Death	Lump sum paid to your dependants if you die.
	Terminal illness (included in death cover)	Lump sum paid if you have death cover and are diagnosed as terminally ill with a life expectancy of 24 months or less.
Your income	TPD	Lump sum paid if you're permanently disabled by injury or illness and unlikely to ever work again.
	IP	Monthly payments if you temporarily can't work due to an accident or illness. Your payments will start monthly in arrears from the end of your waiting period.

Can you get automatic cover?

You must meet some basic conditions to be eligible for automatic cover through Media Super Sole Trader:

- you must be aged over 15 and under 69
- you don't already have an account with Media Super or Cbus Super
- you're not making a claim for, not entitled to, and haven't been paid any form of total and permanent disablement or terminal illness benefit from any super fund or life insurer
- you haven't been diagnosed with an illness that is likely to result in your death within 24 months
- you have an account balance of at least $250 within 31 days of joining
- you return your application form within 31 days of it being signed.

Eligibility requirements and cover conditions can vary depending on your personal circumstances. You should read the Insurance guide (Sole Trader) carefully to learn more, including eligibility, exclusions and other terms and conditions of cover.

When automatic cover starts

If you're 25 or older

Your automatic cover won't start until your account balance reaches $6,000, unless you tell us you want it to start earlier. Select this option when you join or at mediasuper.com.au/want-cover at any time. Your cover may be limited depending on when you tell us you want it.

If you elect to receive automatic cover, your cover will start from the later of:

- the day you tell us you want automatic insurance cover, or
- the day you have at least $250 in your account (as long as it's within 31 days from when we accept your application to join or your election for cover).

If you don't elect to receive automatic insurance, your cover will start once your account balance reaches $6,000 and you've turned 25.

If you're under 25

You can't get automatic cover, but can apply for cover from age 15 by logging into your account at mediasuper.com.au/login or completing a Change my insurance form, available at mediasuper.com.au/forms.

How much cover will you get and what will it cost?

The automatic cover available is based on your age.

Changing your cover

Life doesn't stay the same, so it's important to regularly review your cover to make sure it still meets your needs.

You can apply to change your occupation category, increase, reduce or cancel your cover whenever you like by logging into your account at mediasuper.com.au/login or completing the relevant form, available at mediasuper.com.au/forms.

If you simply want to cancel your cover, you can call us on 1800 640 886. Bear in mind that if you cancel your cover and want cover again later, you'll need to reapply and provide health and other information for our insurer to consider – but be aware, you may not be eligible.

You can also apply to transfer your existing death, TPD and IP cover from another super fund or insurance policy, or apply for more cover when certain life events happen, like you get married, have children or take out a mortgage.

 You should read the important information about insurance in your super in the Insurance guide (Sole Trader) at mediasuper.com.au/pds before making a decision. This includes the amount and cost of cover, when cover stops and starts, changing your cover, making a claim, and any other terms and conditions of Media Super's insurance policies. The material relating to insurance in your super may change between the time you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.
