

TARGET MARKET DETERMINATION

- Media Super Industry

Effective date December 2025

This Target Market Determination (TMD) has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth).

TMD purpose

This TMD:

1. describes the class of prospective members that comprise the target market for the Media Super Industry product;
2. specifies distribution conditions that apply to the distribution of the Media Super Industry product;
3. specifies review triggers that would reasonably suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate;
4. specifies review periods in which the TMD must be reviewed; and
5. specifies the kinds of information and the timing of any reporting required to enable United Super Pty Ltd as Trustee for Cbus offering Media Super products to promptly identify a review trigger or any other circumstance that would reasonably suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate.

This TMD is not a disclosure document

This document isn't a product disclosure statement (PDS) and isn't a summary of the product's features or terms. This document doesn't take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs and isn't to be considered as any form of advice. For more information about this product, please refer to the PDS, available at mediasuper.com.au/pds.

This TMD does not apply to MySuper

This TMD applies to the Media Super Industry product except for the Growth (MySuper) investment option. MySuper products are exempted from the design and distribution obligations of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth).

This TMD is based on certain considerations

This TMD outlines the:

- suitable prospective members for this product,
- class of prospective members that comprise the target market,
- trustee and distributor information reporting requirements, and
- key product attributes.

A. Suitable prospective members for this product

This product is a superannuation accumulation product and is only suitable for applicants intending to receive contributions from an employer.

Given that superannuation is largely a compulsory financial system designed to cater for all Australians, the target market is very wide.

Their objectives

This product is suitable for a prospective member who aims to grow their retirement funds for any or all of the following purposes:

- to provide retirement benefits at a future date;
- to take advantage of concessional tax treatment of savings;
- to ensure amounts are preserved and can't be withdrawn or redeemed, other than due to a condition of release.

Their financial situation

This product is suitable for a prospective member who:

- has an employer who will make contributions on their behalf;
- is in the accumulation phase, (because, as this is an accumulation product, its benefit is preserved subject to the superannuation preservation rules stipulated in the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (SIS Act) and the balance will only be accessible when a condition of release is met); and
- is not intending to commence a pension income stream at the time of application.

Their needs

This product is suitable for a prospective member who:

- wants their super managed on their behalf;
- requires simplicity and flexibility but with a limited degree of control and a balance of risk versus return;
- does not intend to make in specie superannuation contributions;
- wants to:
 - select from a limited selection of investment options, including combinations of options to construct a portfolio based on their unique risk appetite and investment timeframe.
- wants access to death and total and permanent disablement (TPD) cover who is not excluded by:
 - having received a total and permanent disablement or terminal illness payment from a super fund or insurance policy, or be currently applying for or entitled to one; or
 - having a terminal illness with a life expectancy of 24 months or less from when it was diagnosed; or
 - being under 15 or aged 65 or over (or aged 67 or over for death cover).
- who may wish to apply for income protection (IP) cover.

This product is not suitable for persons seeking to manage their own superannuation, in a manner similar to a self-managed superannuation fund.

B. Class of prospective members that comprise the Target Market

Individual/ family/ entity

- Individuals only,
- No minimum or maximum entry age, and;
- Individuals who do not wish to solely be a member of a self-managed superannuation fund or small APRA fund.

Phase

- Accumulation phase (growing super);
- Individuals not seeking to solely receive a pension income stream.

Employment occupation

Superannuation

The target market for prospective members of Media Super Industry superannuation is:

- persons employed at any level or stage of employment; and
- in any industry/occupation.

Insurance

Subject to eligibility, members in these target markets can access the following cover:

- death,
- TPD, and
- income protection.

a) Death insurance eligibility

Depending on your target market described above, your eligibility varies as follows:

Members aged at least 25 and under 64, with an account balance of more than $6,000 qualify for automatic death cover.

By law, members under 25 or with an account balance of less than $6,000 are not eligible for automatic death cover until they reach these triggers. These members can apply for death cover when they join Media Super or at any other time prior to reaching the trigger.

Note: Death cover will cease (including automatic cover) when an account becomes inactive (hasn't received a super contribution or roll in for 16 months) and the member hasn't elected to keep their cover.

Members who are between the ages of 64 to 67, can apply for additional death cover.

b) Total and permanent disablement (TPD) cover eligibility

Members aged at least 25 and under 64, with an account balance of more than $6,000, qualify for automatic TPD cover.

By law, members under 25 or with an account balance of less than $6,000 are not eligible for automatic TPD cover until they reach these triggers. These members can apply for TPD cover when they join Media Super or any time prior to reaching these triggers.

Note: TPD cover will cease (including automatic cover) when an account becomes inactive (hasn't received a super contribution or roll in for 16 months) and the member hasn't elected to keep their cover.

B. Class of prospective members that comprise the Target Market (continued)

Employment occupation

c) Income protection (IP) cover eligibility

Members aged at least 25 and under 64, with an account balance of more than $6,000, qualify for automatic IP cover provided they meet the eligibility criteria below:

By law, members under 25 or with an account balance of less than $6,000, are not eligible for automatic IP cover until they reach these triggers. These members may still apply for the IP cover when they join Media Super or at any time other prior to reaching the trigger.

Note: IP cover will cease if the member stops receiving super contributions from their employer.

The class of members which is the target market for this cover are those who satisfy the eligibility rules set out below:

- be aged 15 or over and under 64;
- be an Australian resident;
- not be working in an excluded occupation (see below);
- do not already have another account with Media Super or Cbus Super;
- have not received a total and permanent disablement or terminal illness. payment from a super fund or insurance policy and are not currently applying for or entitled to one; and
- do not have a terminal illness with a life expectancy of 24 months or less from when it was diagnosed.

For underwritten cover, we must also receive the completed application for IP cover within 31 days of it being signed by the member.

If a member wants to apply for IP cover, the member's occupation must not be excluded at the time of application. The following occupations are excluded for IP cover:

- armed security guard, doorman, bouncer, or person employed in crowd control
- Australian Disability Enterprises employee
- commercial pilot
- firefighter, police officer, ambulance officer, and paramedic
- fisherman
- forestry worker
- miner (if working with explosives)
- offshore oil rig worker
- professional and semi-professional sportsperson
- sex worker
- sheltered workshop employee
- underwater worker, and
- workers in the horse racing industry, such as a trainer, jockey, and strapper.

Note: IP cover will cease if the member stops receiving super contributions from their employer.

If members are not eligible because they work in an excluded occupation, other alternatives may be available, and they can contact Media Super for more information.

C. Distribution conditions

The distribution conditions for this product are as follows:

1. Only individuals may apply.
2. No minimum or maximum entry age.
3. The applicant must be in accumulation phase.
4. This product should not be distributed to an applicant who indicates an intention to:
 - a) not have amounts contributed and invested subject to the superannuation preservation rules;
 - b) manage their own superannuation in a manner similar to a self-managed superannuation fund, other than by selecting and switching investment options, making contributions and/or choosing insurance arrangements that are offered in the product; and/or
 - c) make in specie superannuation contributions.

Distribution channels

United Super is both an Issuer and Distributor of the Media Super Industry product. United Super issues the product through a product disclosure statement which is provided to each member and prospective member of Media Super.

This product is distributed through the following channels:

- Through an employer, where Media Super is the employer's default fund
- Join via paper form
- Media Super Representative
- Media Super Financial Adviser
- Through third party financial advisers and other regulated persons (holding an AFSL) who engage in retail product distribution, who must be satisfied that the product is likely suitable for the member and have provided the PDS to the member.

D. Review triggers

The following events will trigger a review of the TMD:

1. Significant dealings including, but not limited to:
 - significant or unexpectedly high volume of exiting the product;
 - significant or unexpectedly high volume of investment option switches;
 - unexpected high volume of insurance claims;
 - unexpected high proportion of insurance cancellations; and
 - unexpected high proportion of insurance claims being denied or withdrawn.that reasonably suggests the existence of a potential problem with the product.
2. Complaints, including non-significant persistent complaints of a similar nature, or an unexpectedly high number of complaints that may reasonably suggest that the TMD is no longer appropriate.
3. Material changes to key product attributes, terms and/or conditions that would reasonably suggest that this TMD is no longer appropriate.
4. Any ruling, direction or requirement of an applicable regulator or court order requiring the TMD to be reviewed.
5. Changes to the legislation which materially impact the design and/or distribution of this product.

E. Review periods

Other review triggers

United Super will review this TMD in the following circumstances:

1. There has been a significant breach relating to the design or distribution of this product that would reasonably suggest that this product is unsuitable for a particular cohort of members; or
2. The Target Market and product attributes described in this TMD are found to include materially incorrect or misleading information that reasonably suggests that this TMD is no longer appropriate.

Where a review trigger has occurred, United Super and all distributors must cease distribution conduct and any party (including the administrator) must cease giving a retail client a product disclosure statement as soon as practicable and no later than 10 business days after becoming aware the trigger has occurred, unless the review occurs within that period of time and a new TMD is made or the relevant trigger event is resolved.

E. Review periods (continued)

Review periods	Maximum period for review
Next review	By 31 December 2026
Subsequent periodic review	Every 12 months; or earlier if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a review trigger occurs; or • something else occurs that reasonably suggests to United Super that this TMD is no longer appropriate; or • Media Super decides it is necessary or desirable to undertake a review.
